Nimble Consulting for Nonprofits

Rumohr and Clarke Announces New Initiative

New York-based non-profit consulting partnership Rumohr and Clarke announces a new initiative to help organizations navigate through the challenges of COVID-19. Forward Motion can provide a deep dive into strategic planning, board and resource development, budget analysis, program development and all of the tools needed to plan for sustainability in the new era.

Jennifer Clarke, the lead consultant for Forward Motion, brings a wealth of experience in multiple arts disciplines. Most recently, as Executive Director of ACMP – Associated Chamber Music Players and the ACMP Foundation, she completed a strategic planning process, introduced new virtual programs, stabilized business operations, and expanded philanthropic activities exponentially. Accessibility and arts education have been key cornerstones throughout her career.

Rumohr and Clarke was created by non-profit executive leadership team Jenny Clarke & Floyd Rumohr in 2012 to provide flexible consulting services to small non-profits. Jenny and Floyd have a deep understanding of the many hats worn by staff and board members and the complex day-to-day challenges and opportunities of leading and managing in that world. Rumohr and Clarke consulting helps organizations succeed through strategies and processes that are adaptable, portable, and changeable. Rumohr and Clarke services include interim executive leadership and consulting.

Contact Jenny to discuss your project and needs.
